"By working closely with Companies House, we have created a very efficient service for people who need very quick formation of companies," says Sam Lloyd, managing director of 7side.

Established in 1980, his company specialises in formation, corporate and property services - and Companies House's electronic services give them the confidence and certainty they need. "We can incorporate in two or three hours, which is enormously beneficial to everyone. It's just a case of clicking a few buttons on your PC and you've incorporated the company," says Sam. 7side is the largest user of Companies House Direct, offering value-added company searches and document packages to clients across business and professional sectors. "From the start, we knew we could add value where necessary," says Sam, "...and Companies House do provide an excellent service."
